DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 30-33, 36-39, 42-44, 46-54 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bachler et al. in view of Kadan et al. and Food Values and Schnelderwirth.

The claims are rejected for the reasons of record cited in the last office action.

ALLOWABLE SUBJECT MATTER

Claims 34 and 40 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

ARGUMENTS

Applicant's arguments filed 5-19-04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicants argue that the Bachler reference is deficient in regards to the amount of carbohydrate and that a high amount of fat in the product would not be suitable for providing a well-balance nutrition to a person. However, Bachler discloses that the gellable emulsion can contain from 2.5 to 40% lipids (col. 2, lines 1-3). This reference is then combined with other references that show that it is known to use higher levels of carbohydrates (COH) in gelled foods. The claims except for particular ones are not seen to be limited to providing balanced nutrition to a person recovering from surgery. Certainly, a composition containing 90% of energy from carbohydrates is not a balanced food nutritionally, even though for certain illnesses, such a high level is required.

The reference to Kadan was used to show higher levels of COH's as was Schneilderwirth and Food Values (Jello TM).

Applicants argue that gelled compositions are good for dysphagia patients. However, most of the claims do not contain any degree of gelling to make this distinction.

It is not seen that Bachler teaches away from the invention, in providing a well-balanced composition, because Applicants' composition is not seen to be particularly well balanced. Usually fat, which is a major food group, is found in a balanced food composition.

Therefore, it is seen that the references in composition do show a gelled food product as claimed.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
